

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF IOWA
CENTRAL DIVISION

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

BOBBY JOHN BENNETT,

Defendant.

No. CR15-3050-LTS

ORDER

This matter is before me on a Report and Recommendation (R&R) in which the Honorable C.J. Williams, United States Magistrate Judge, recommends that I accept defendant's plea of guilty. See Doc. No. 29.

I. BACKGROUND

On December 15, 2015, the grand jury returned a two-count indictment (Doc. No. 2) against defendant. Count 1 charged defendant with conspiracy to distribute a controlled substance in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1), 841(b)(1)(B), 846 and 851. Count 2 charged defendant with possession of a controlled substance in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1), 841(b)(1)(B) and 851. On April 18, 2016, defendant appeared before Judge Williams and changed his plea to guilty with regard to Count 1. Judge Williams filed the R&R that same day. The parties have waived the right to object to the R&R and have consented to its acceptance. See Doc. No. 30.

II. APPLICABLE STANDARDS

A district judge must review a magistrate judge's R&R under the following standards:

Within fourteen days after being served with a copy, any party may serve and file written objections to such proposed findings and recommendations as provided by rules of court. A judge of the court shall make a de novo determination of those portions of the report or specified proposed findings or recommendations to which objection is made. A judge of the court may accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, the findings or recommendations made by the magistrate judge. The judge may also receive further evidence or recommit the matter to the magistrate judge with instructions.

28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b). Thus, when a party objects to any portion of an R&R, the district judge must undertake a de novo review of that portion.

Any portions of an R&R to which no objections have been made must be reviewed under at least a “clearly erroneous” standard. See, e.g., Grinder v. Gammon, 73 F.3d 793, 795 (8th Cir. 1996) (noting that when no objections are filed “[the district court judge] would only have to review the findings of the magistrate judge for clear error”). As the Supreme Court has explained, “[a] finding is ‘clearly erroneous’ when although there is evidence to support it, the reviewing court on the entire evidence is left with the definite and firm conviction that a mistake has been committed.” Anderson v. City of Bessemer City, 470 U.S. 564, 573-74 (1985) (quoting United States v. U.S. Gypsum Co., 333 U.S. 364, 395 (1948)). However, a district judge may elect to review an R&R under a more-exacting standard even if no objections are filed:

Any party that desires plenary consideration by the Article III judge of any issue need only ask. Moreover, while the statute does not require the judge to review an issue de novo if no objections are filed, it does not preclude further review by the district judge, sua sponte or at the request of a party, under a de novo or any other standard.

Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 150 (1985).

III. DISCUSSION

Because neither party objects to the R&R, I have reviewed it for clear error. Based on that review, I am not “left with the definite and firm conviction that a mistake has been committed.” Anderson, 470 U.S. at 573-74. As such, I hereby accept the R&R without modification and accept defendant’s plea of guilty to Count 1 of the indictment.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED this 31st day of May, 2016.
